Monday, November 30, 8:00 p.m.

St. Paul's Church, 2430 K St.

Hear ye! Hear ye!

On the last day of November the Foggy Bottom Association will hold a Town Meeting. Candidates for the non-voting delegate to Congress from the District of Columbia have been invited to appear. Come and hear their views -- make up your minds. This is an unmatched opportunity for Foggy Bottom residents and all D.C. voters to learn about issues that affect us all and about the positions of the various candidates on these issues. Come and bring a friend.

GRASS ROOTS AWARD

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a proposed amendment to the by-laws of the Foggy Bottom Association, calling for expansion of the Association boundaries north to L Street, NW, and east to 20th Street NW, will be presented to the membership at the January 1971 meeting for discussion and a vote.

All seasons can be lovely in Foggy Bottom, but especially Christmas when decorations adorn and brighten windows and doors. We hope that many in the area will make the effort to brighten the neighborhood--and the spirits of all who pass by--during the Christmas season.

LAST MEETING

Dr. Robert Lamson of the National Science Foundation, guest speaker at the October 26 Foggy Bottom Association meeting, presented, reluctantly, a "Brave New World" picture for the year 2020. Projections for U.S. population, based on the 1960 census, range from a low of 300 million to a high of 440 million people in 50 years. More people mean greater demands on the environment: the demand for water is projected to triple while the population doubles; use of electricity doubles every 5 to 10 years; use of automobiles is projected to go up 40% by 1980; industrial waste has increased seven times in less than 35 years. Only recently have citizens begun to question whether ever-increasing technology is actually the answer to all of man's problems or whether it has created some of its own. A harmonious balance must be preserved between the man-made and the natural environment, if the world we leave to our children is to be at least as pleasant as our own.

Material covered at the business meeting included: introduction of the Environmental Affairs Chairman Dirck Holscher; a motion to favor rapid transit to Dulles International Airport; an announcement of the proposed Nov. 17 hearings on the Three Sisters Bridge, at which individual citizen testimony is invited; and the report from the Second Police District representative noting a decrease in crime in the area but warning of a robber operating in parking garages in the neighborhood and in other parts of Northwest at night.

BOTTOMIAN GIGRICH AMONG THE 19...

Local papers last month carried news items announcing the reception into the permanent diaconate of 19 men in the Washington and northern Virginia archdioceses. These men had just completed the first part of their two-year training for this part-time ministry. Not known to many in Foggy Bottom was that among them, and the only bachelor in the group, is ecumenist Dr. John P. Gigrich, chairman of the West End Laymen Association and president of the St. Stephen Parish Council.

Dear Bottomians:

These are the times that try editors' eloquence.

I am trying to express my appreciation in a way equal to the way in which the Foggy Bottom Association has expressed its appreciation for my efforts in an activity that I enjoyed doing, and for which I volunteered because I thought I would enjoy it.

Although I shall remember the Annual Awards Dinner and the Grass Roots recognition all my life, it is but sweet frosting on a delicious cake. The reward for my efforts was the stimulating personalities I was privileged to work with and the friendships both I and my wife Barbara made in the course of producing each edition of The News.

As a famous "Household" editor of The News has said many times, "A good cake needs no frosting."

Thanks to all of you, sincerely,

Robert L. Anderson

DRUG ABUSE MATERIAL AT D.C. PUBLIC LIBRARY

The D.C. Public Library has published a list of its books, pamphlets, movies and filmstrips on drug abuse. The list, entitled "A Look At Drugs," is available free to the public.

For groups planning educational programs on drugs, the library offers the use of its meeting rooms and the loan of its films. For a copy of "A Look At Drugs" or for further information, write or call the Library Community Relations Department, 499 Pennsylvania Ave., NW, 783-4492.

POLLUTION PREVENTION

Up-dating information given in the June 1970 issue of the FBNews about detergents which needlessly increase the pollution of rivers, (yes, the Potomac is one of them) and lakes, it was found that the phosphate content of the detergent was the active polluting agent. A further and current list of detergents and the amount of phosphate per load of laundry is given in Consumer Reports for September 1970, pages 529-530. If you do not subscribe to the Reports, they are available at our excellent West End Library.

WARNING

When you look at the consumer price index (cost of living to you non-economists), just remember that last spring the ten-year-old base of the index was reduced 20 points. January 1970's price level was 131.8 percent of the 1957-59 average, but under the revision the January 1970 price level will show as 113.3 percent.

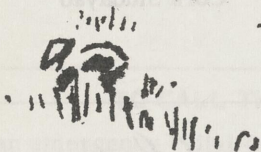

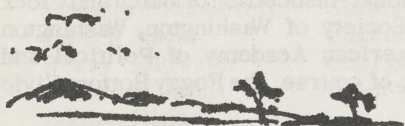

Figuring it out in your dollars in your pocket, it looks like this: the new index shows 100 of today's dollars would have bought $88.40 worth of goods in 1957-59. But the index, before revision last spring, showed 100 of today's dollars would have bought only $75.80 worth of goods in 1957-59. $12.60 out of every 100 of your dollars has gone "up the flue" or "down the drain" when that index was changed and don't forget to include that when you look at figures for the cost of living.

One horrible example of what inflation can really become is this; if you had been in Germany in 1923 and wanted to write home, you would have paid

on October 18, 1923	18,000,000 marks
on October 29, 1923	90,000,000 marks
on November 3, 1923	560,000,000 marks for the postage for your letter.

The Enigma of It All

They will go away and leave one group of little people
Who, for awhile were made to feel big
By the richest Nation with them there.
And another group of little people were made to feel big
By the continuing presence of their own kind there.
The Rich Ones' being there seemed a promise
That the cause of the first was just.
The going away of the richest Nation will take their heart.
What will be there then?

WHEN DID YOU LAST TAKE A DEEP BREATH OF FRESH AIR?

Notwithstanding the continuous efforts of the Metropolitan Washington Coalition for Clean Air to recommend and support new environmental legislation and regulations, it is clear that much existing state and local legislation could help preserve our deteriorating environment. A nearly universal problem, however, which still permits continuing air pollution is the lack of enforcement of existing law. This is often due to limited staff and resources of air pollution control agencies, in addition to constant pressure from polluters. Members of the MWCCA and all citizens, therefore, can and must assist the enforcement process.

Please write or call the MWCCA office (234-7100) to order wallet-sized complaint number cards (see below) for your organization members, friends, and neighbors. Our air will surely be cleaner with the help of a thousand citizen field investigators.

If you breathe-air pollution is your problem.

One living Christmas tree in scale with apartment limitations is the Norfolk Island (in the Pacific) pine. The tree does beautifully in a pot where it can be trained to resemble the graceful Japanese Bonsai. Ours begins its second Christmas.

Hecht's flower center on Wilson Blvd. in Arlington has the potted trees as do most florists and garden centers. The price is a fraction of the "soon to be burned" cut ones that add to the pollution.

Tulips, Daffodils and Hyacinths for spring color may still be planted outdoors or in pots. Choose the largest and firmest bulbs. Also add bonemeal to the soil.

Potted bulbs for late winter forcing indoors must be kept in the dark and cold but not freezing--about 40 degrees F. Use an overturned box filled with dry leaves or a cold room such as a closet off a balcony. Water well several times before covering the pots. After six weeks you may set them in a sunny window. Then they will take much water--especially the hyacinths.

The permanent diaconate, which was revived by the Second Vatican Council, is open to mature Catholic men, married and single, who wish to dedicate their lives to the service of the Church, while continuing with their regular occupations and duties. They assist in the ministry on weekends and during their other free hours, and may perform the priestly functions of baptizing, witnessing marriages, distributing communion, and preaching; they cannot celebrate Mass, hear confessions, or anoint the sick. They can also direct works of charity and cooperate with the bishop and pastor in developing the Christian community.

The candidates come from varying backgrounds, occupations, and educational levels ranging from the 8th grade to the post-graduate level. On October 10 they received the tonsure (which signifies their reception into the clerical state) at a ceremony at Sacred Heart Church. They will be ordained as the first permanent deacons in the area in the fall of 1971.

John is Intelligence Management Specialist at the Office of the Secretary of Defense in the Pentagon where he has been working since 1951. He holds Ph.D. (1954) and M.A. (1948) degrees from the Catholic University of America, and has been on the academic staff part-time through the years of that University, of Georgetown University and George Washington University. He also has a string of memberships in various civic, political, religious, and cultural associations, among them the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors, Opera Society of Washington, Washington Drama Society, American Academy of Political and Social Science, and, of course, the Foggy Bottom Civic Association.

Who Said That?

Of course you've heard it before - but who said it? Match the following quotations with the famous men who said them - then turn to the next page to see how well you did.

1. "This country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government, they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it."
2. "Every man holds his property subject to the general right of the community to regulate its use to whatever degree the public welfare may require it."
3. "Every movement with great aims has anxiously to watch that that it does not lose connection with the great masses."
4. "...work is the duty of every able-bodied citizen, according to the principle 'he who does not work, neither shall he eat'."
5. "The only part of the so-called national wealth that actually enters into the collective possessions of modern peoples is their national debt."

FOGGY DOINGS

We've recently heard the good news that 25th Street's BOB KEITH is home from the hospital and getting along well. His recovery, no doubt, has been encouraged by the help of some fine neighbors, including the BLUMENTHALS and WACHTERS.

The restoration of the last "unrestored" house on Eye Street is being completed, and IRENE PARSONS will be moving in to enjoy the fruit of her work. When she does move, FB will welcome back to his home-stand HALSEY HANDYSIDE, who has returned from his assignment in Africa.

Travelers: Three weeks in Italy was the holiday taken by CATHERINE STOKES, RUFUS LISLE, PAUL VANIMAN, and former FB resident MARY McGRADE. Also taking three weeks in sunnier climes - Portugal and Spain to be exact - is FBA Secretary LESLIE WILDER, who "did" Portugal on her own, then joined her family to travel in Spain.

A little more traveling is being done these days by CARL PETERS, who you may see pedaling vigorously off each morning on his new Peugeot bicycle. A "victim" of the demolition of the old Navy Building, he is taking the healthy way to his new office in Jefferson Plaza in Virginia.

We were saddened to hear of the death in early fall of MRS. CAMILLA STEUCK who lived in Queen Anne's Lane.

FOR MEN ONLY — A Word to the Wise

Guys, if you are looking for a nifty number, Foggy Bottom is a likely place to find one. Everybody knows that rents in our area require that if a girl wants to live here and maintain an apartment by herself, she has to have enough ability to have a job that commands a wage that allows her to afford the rents. Foggy Bottom femmes have a lot of intellect, education, and are quite cultured.

They also are generous and like to contribute to worthy causes — such as FBNews. Right at the moment about a half dozen of the Bottom's most attractive single females are contributing to the production of this paper and would eagerly welcome any male assistance. Due to the weakness of The Editor's eyes (for beauty) and impulsiveness of his nature, he ostracized himself from the fullest enjoyment of this happy situation last summer and now has a beautiful hatchet (a young battle-axe).

SNOW EMERGENCY

Even in idyllic Foggy Bottom some property owners are negligent about removing snow from their sidewalks. Last October 13th the Senate began to provide stronger motivation for the delinquent owner to obey the District law. The Senate voted to allow the City government to charge property owners for the cost of shoveling snow and ice from their sidewalks. A snowfall may come anytime, so buy a shovel (they are available now) and get that snow off your sidewalk before it is tramped into a hard, slippery mass. Early and easy does it.
